Quilters end productive season

The Five Star Quilters ended their season with a pot luck lunch in Lucknow. Ann Hawkins handed the presidency to Nancy Wood from Kincardine and Mona Tunney, who completed her six year term as treasurer, will be handing the books to Simone Lynch from Kincardine. The Guild presented Ann with a basket of fabric and Mona received a signed patchwork block from each of the members.

This season, the Guild members have learned many new patterns and techniques. "Quilt in a Day" brought about three different quilt tops from teachers Nellie Nusink, Simone Lynch, and Nancy Wood. All proved to be very interesting and beautiful.

There was also a workshop on Applique and teachers Doris Bushell and Simone Lynch demonstrating two different techniques. Members chose to either learn the Celtic Applique using bias strips of fabric, or a different way using a pattern cut out like a paper snowflake, and two fabrics joined together. The top layer is carefully cut out and appliqued onto the bottom layer.

Maureen Tresnak from "Project Smile" has kept in touch with the Guild and sent a couple of photos of children who have received their quilts through our efforts in January. We hope to continue to help with this worthwhile project.

Canadian Living had a Baby Quilt challenge at the beginning of the year and Manja Patel, Nellie Nusink, Darlene Schiestel and Carol Mitchell took on the challenge and created a beautiful quilt which was entered. The Guild received a letter of congratulations for honorable mention and a cheque for $50. Great work ladies.

Southampton Museum wrote the Five Star Quilters and thanked them for participating in the Wallhanging Show at the museum along with a $50 cheque. Congratulations to Carol Mitchell who won third prize for artistic impression and Doris Bushell who won an honorable mention.

Goderich Museum is looking for the Guild's participation with their 13th Annual Quilt Show in August. If members would like to send quilts they are asked to have them there by July 28 at 4:30 p.m. For the guidelines, call Nancy Wood.

Friends of the Library in Wingham are holding a Wallhanging Display this fall and the Five Star Quilters have agreed to display their works of art. Members are asked to bring their wallhangings to the Sept. 24 meeting so they can be included in the show.

Congratulations to the following members for their wonderful handiwork on their quilt blocks for the 1998 quilt. For the three categories. Pieced applique and combination of both - Ann Hawkins, Muriel MacKenzie and Betty Ritchie won first, Barb DeBoer, Doris Bushell and Manja Patel won second, and Simone Lynch, Nancy Wood and Marion MacKinnon won third.

Inga Bolt and Marion Hastie from Hanover were the mystery guests at our final meeting and they displayed some very beautiful garments and quilts they have made. Members played "QUILT" and the "Dog Sale" raised $89 to go towards our Guild library. We hope to see everyone back in September bright and full of quilting ideas. Have a great summer.

Volunteerism at its best in Jack and Doreen Mali

July 1997

Dear editor:

There are a couple of people in the area who have done a tremendous amount of volunteer work in our minor sports system for several years, and it's time they were recognized.

From the start of the pre-season soccer registration, coaches have to be recruited for each team in each level. Teams have to be split evenly in each division. Scheduling meetings were attended and schedules set up for each team as well as referees being scheduled for the season.

In our rec soccer system, we have over 130 kids involved in the squirt level; 68 (4 teams) in the atom division; 26 (2 teams) in the mosquito division; 27 (2 teams) in the pee wee division; and 15 on the bantam team.

When the season starts you would often see these two people at our local soccer field making sure practices and games ran smoothly if it didn't interfere with some of their children's games. When the older squirts sent four teams to a tournament in Wingham, these two people could be seen cheering on the sidelines the whole day - even though none of their children were involved in the tournament.

Again, this past weekend, as the Atom B-Kool team was playing the championship game in the year end tournament in Clinton, their voices could be heard on the sidelines - softly though - as they had been cheering from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Lucknow is very fortunate to have these two people promoting and organizing soccer for the past eight years and pushing this sport to the level that we are competitive with all other communities in the area.

So, when you see Jack and Doreen Mali, give them a thank you and let them know you appreciate how they have made the sport of soccer grow for all our children to enjoy.

Just the numbers registering in this year's soccer program alone should make Jack and Doreen very proud.

Way to go! And thanks from all the parents of the players.

Steve Chamney.

South Kinloss Women's Missionary Society met July 2 at the "Country Lodge" with Janie Hamilton as hostess.

Florence McConnell and Roely VanderKlippe were the directors. They started with a box lunch shared by members and residents. Eleven residents were there for the lunch and six stayed for the meeting, opened by Nancy MacIntyre.

Ruth Bell sang a solo "Bless this House" accompanied by Margare Hamilton at the piano.

Rollcall "a favorite Bible verse."

Mrs. VanderKlippe had two readings: "It is You and "Laugh" and she also did the offertory prayer.

Margaret Hamilton led in a sing song. Florence McConnell gave an interesting meditation "The House of Many Lights."

Evans McQuillan, resident, played two selections on the violin.

The Lords Prayer was said to end the meeting.

Sympathy is extended to Elizabeth and Ira Dickie on the death of Elizabeth's sister-in-law, Grace McIver of London.

Kelly McBride, daughter of George McBride, RR5 Lucknow and her friend Dan Kennedy, Toronto, have embarked on a bicycle trip to Vancouver, B.C. They left Kinloss Township on Aug. 23 and are expected on the west coast on Oct. 6, approximately six weeks. The cyclists are staying in provincial parks along the way. After reaching the west coast, they are leaving for Australia where they will live and tour for a few years. Sept. 1997

We would like to welcome Larry and Susan Ropp and girls to our community from Milverton. They have purchased the farm of Don and Ruth Bell, and are busy establishing their dairy operation. Don and Ruth are happily settling into their new home on the 4th Concession. This was a busy weekend for the Bell's and their families, Wayne and Laurie, Nic and Bev, as they joined in the wedding celebrations of Heather Steer, and Steve Michie. Phyllis Wallace and her family from London were guests of Ruth and Don, and attended the ceremonies.

Heath Houston of Calgary, grandson of Elsie Houston visited on the weekend with his grandmother. He had been a surveyor on a project at Anticosti, Quebec and while in Eastern Canada, visited relatives in Halifax, Harriston, Ripley as well as Lucknow.

Sympathy extended to Haldenby family

Sympathy is extended to Irene and Bill Haldenby and family on the death of Irene's mom, Maimie Roulston, who died last week.

This is the first week of "back to school" so drivers and walkers watch for the buses and children heading to school. We are wishing a great year for students as they venture out to another year. Also to the teachers and bus drivers.

Shirley, Tom and Mary Downie attended the wedding of Andy Blanchard and Tammy Cleghorn in Wingham last Saturday.

Alesha Moffat returned home from spending the summer near Paris, France. She was working as a Nanny and did some touring with that family. She also met up with a girl friend from Bluevale.

It's time for the students to be off to further their post secondary education. This year those include: Julie Carter is back for her second year in Kingston where she is taking Concurrent Education at Queens. Kristen O'Neill is back to Waterloo for her second year of Kinesiology.

Marita MacDougall is gone to Windsor for teachers college.

Alesha Moffat is gone back to York University in Toronto for her third year.

Chad Moffat is off to Windsor where he is taking his first year in engineering.
