A special dedication service was held at the Earl Harris hospital in Lion's Head last Friday, because of a generous donation from a Lion's Head man. Eric Boffey, a resident of the village recently donated 9 new beds and mattresses to the hospital, total cost $39,200. The beds are the latest in technology and patient Stella

Peake aptly called them "magic beds". That's why I'm going home early." Posing with one of the new beds are: Miriam Fowke, Registered Nurse; baby Tara Gibbons; Linda Stewart, R.N.A.; Joan Hay, Unit Manager and Chaplain Walter Fowke. Mr. Boffey was not present for the picture.
