

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. MacDougall

GRASS FARM
(Hielan' Farms).

Saugeen Twp. Lot 16, Con. 1.

The earliest information on this farm, comprising 100 acres, was on December 26th 1873, when Robert Smith sold it to Mr. Archie Wilkie.

Seven years later, Colin McArthur and his wife, Susannah McArthur bought it. In 1891 at the death of Colin McArthur, the farm went to his wife, Susan McDonald and their two children, John Edward McArthur and Gertrude McArthur. In 1904, Susan McDonald, wife of Neil McDonald, and widow of the late Colin McArthur and her daughter Gertrude, sold the farm to her son, John Edward McArthur. He was married to Mary McLeod.

In 1920, George M. Jamieson bought it. In 1944 he willed this farm to John Millan Jamieson, his son.

In 1955, it was sold to Alex. MacDougall, who is the present owner of it.

There are no buildings. The house was moved across the road and is the present dwelling of Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Brown.

The barn was purchased by Mr. Bert Schell of North Bruce, and was moved by him to the farm presently occupied by his son Woodrow, to replace their barn, which had been destroyed by fire, a short time previously.
