

EVERYONE LOVES A SURPRISE! and this one is for our very gracious Centennial Queen, Mrs. Ruby McGillivray.

The Times late last week received the above photograph from Mr. Ross McGillivray, of Sidney, B. C., her son.

Mr. McGillivray's letter said in part: "Greetings to Mother, Port Elgin's Centennial Queen, from Victoria, British Columbia.

Since we cannot be in Port Elgin during July, we thought this would be a nice gesture to my mother, Mrs. Ruby McGillivray .....it is her son, grandchildren and the only four great grandchildren she has."

Mr. McGillivray further writes: "My wife Jane and I attended High School (in Port Elgin) when Mr. D. L. Strachan was principal. We were both born and raised there. She is the daughter of Mrs. W. J. Kreutzwieser and the late Roy Wesley, a former owner and editor of The Port Elgin Times."

The Times extends thanks and appreciation to Ross and Jane for their thoughtfulness in adding to our Centennial highlights.

Friends and relatives celebrated the 99th birthday of Mrs. Catherine Macready on Saturday, September 1, at the home of Kenneth and Freda Mann of Port Elgin. Mrs. Macready has two grandchildren, Kenneth Mann of Port Elgin and Calista Halloway of Toronto, and three great-grandchildren, Steven McNabb of Toronto, and Heather and Douglas Mann of Port Elgin.
