It was a wonderful night for remembering Centennial '74. Shown above are the people who helped to make the year a memorable one for the people of Port Elgin. Centennial Queen, Mrs. Ruby McGillivray shares front stage center with her two ladies-in-waiting, Mrs. Mel Black and Mrs. Elsie Webb. Trevor Limbrick, Mrs. George MacKay, Clair Fowler and Rev. Ross Cumming make up the balance of the hard working committee. The Saturday night event at Port Elgin-Saugeen Central School was a big success.

Celebrates 95th birthday

Mrs. David MacDonald entertained relatives at her home near Meaford to honour her sister, Miss Mary K. McCulloch who is 95 years young.

Mrs. Norman Laughlin of Oshawa and Mrs. Wm. Mac-

Donald of Owen Sound assisted with the buffet dinner and Mrs. Ewart McKinnon of Tara and Mrs. Donald McCulloch of North Bruce poured tea.

Relatives from Chesley, Toronto, Oshawa, Allenford, Paisley, Southampton, Port Elgin and

Tara attended the happy occasion. Miss McCulloch enjoys good health, takes a keen interest in local and world affairs, maintains an extensive correspondence, enjoys reading, knitting and walking. Miss McCulloch was a resident of Chesley some years ago when she kept house for her brother, the late Rev. H. D. McCulloch.
