

Walkerton CWL meets

A "Sanctity of Life," with Father Wallace Metcalf as celebrant, opened the December meeting of the Walkerton Catholic Women's League. The theme for the evening was "Season's Greetings."

December activities included distribution of plants or fruit baskets to the homebound. Also, CWL members are having a cookie sale after weekend masses.

Following the meeting, everyone enjoyed a wine tasting party. Convenors Cate Diebold and Heather Zettler and helpers served cheese and crackers.

ay, December 16, 1998

First Singer Living Christmas Tree successful, will be an annual event

V05-21

City church choir's presentation of the Singer Christmas Tree was so successful that the church was able to make several donations to community organizations. Donations included: David Inglis (Walkerton and District Community Support Services) $150; Megan Murdoch (Walkerton Girl Guides) $150; choir director Perry Wilkinson; and the church (Walkerton and District Health Services Foundation) $1,000; and the church (First Walkerton Scouts) $150. FEB 3 1999

Easter fun!

Megan Murdoch, 3, of Walkerton was concentrating intently on some craft work at the annual Optimist Club/Catholic Women's League Bazaar and Craft Sale and Sacred Heart School in Walkerton, Saturday. (photo by Pat)

The musical production of the Singer Living Christmas Tree at the Knox Presbyterian Church, Walkerton this past weekend featured 65 singers and played to packed houses. Local hospital foundation and scouts will benefit from the proceeds.

St. Paul's United Church had a special guest at its service last Sunday. Members of the congregation followed a donkey around the church. Palm Sunday marks the first day of Holy Week and recalls the entry of Jesus into Jerusalem a week before the Resurrection when people strewed palms in his path.

