

Institute rally set for Oct. 5

BY MARY STEFFLER
WHT Correspondent

Ten members were present for the Walkerton Women's Institute meeting held Sept. 14 at Brucelea Haven. ²⁰⁰⁴
The Mary Stewart Collect was recited in unison. Tracy Cassidy guided a tour of the building.

The roll call was name your favourite vegetable and how you prepare it.

Minutes were read by Mary Wand and approved. Ada Mason moved that we donate money for a wreath for Remembrance Day. Also a donation to the Brucelea Haven bus was made.

The Institute rally will be held in Underwood on Oct. 5.

Peggy Evans read an article called 'Where in the World'

by David Sharron of the Bruce County Museum and Archives.

The meeting was turned over to Marg Hedley and Mary Wand. Mary read a prayer for tourists and Memory Lane, while Marg read a poem called 'My Cakes'. A delicious lunch was served.

Walkerton W.I.

Quilt show discussed

BY MARY STEFFLER
WHT Correspondent

Janet Eindiguer opened the Walkerton Women's Institute meeting with a poem on Tuesday, Oct. 13. ²⁰⁰⁴

The opening Ode and the Mary Stewart collect were recited in unison. The minutes of the last meeting and correspondence were read by Mary Wand.

Quilts, quills, and wall hangings are going to be displayed at the International Center, in Mississauga, Sept. 16 to 18, 2005. Some quilts may also be up for sale.

Evelyn Wilson reported on the rally, stating 119 attended. The provincial advisory committee has been eliminated and pennies for friendship were collected.

The bring and buy sale made for a fun time. Cleta Wilhelm and Mary Steffler served lunch.

Walkerton Women's Institute

Members exchange cookies at meeting

BY MARY STEFFLER
Special to WHT

Twelve members and a visitor, Vera Bates, were present at the December meeting held at the library. ²⁰⁰⁴

Janet Eindiguer opened the meeting with the ladies reciting the Institute Ode and the Mary Stewart Collect.

Roll call was what kind of cookies you brought for the cookie exchange.

Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mary Wand and approved. The treasurer's report was given by Peggy Evans.

Pennies for friendship was collected.

Janet Eindiguer spoke on

"The 12 Days of Christmas".

Peggy Evans and Janet led the ladies in a fun game, enjoyed by all and served a delicious lunch.

On Nov. 30 the Brant Greenock Women's Institute joined us for a Christmas dinner.

A donation was given to the Salvation Army.