Grand Mothers Day

Our Institute decided to have a grand mothers day
 At it both old and young did play;
 Each lady came dressed up in her best,
 All taking part in the day with zest.

The procession started from Mercers store,
 As it proceeded it grew more and more,
 Grandmothers came from here and there,
 A feeling of joy was every where.

There were grandmothers ^{big} and grandmothers small
 Grandmothers short and grandmothers tall;
 All dressed up in their best attire,
 It was a scene anyone could admire.

As strangers passed they gave them a smile,
 You could see the procession for many a mile;
 It was a sight one could remember,
 And brought back recollections tender.

As they passed the school, the scholars looked out
 To see what the noise was all about;
 The grandmothers stopped gave a grateful bow,
 It pleased the scholars and teachers any how.
