

Aug 19, 1987

Swimmers of the week

ADAM BATES

Our swimmer of the week is Adam Bates. Adam, five, is in his first session of Yellow. Adam had been swimming before this session and was very good of the water. He is now enjoying the water and to show off his front and back swims with a PFD. He has even gone off the board. Great work Adam.

LYNN McLEAN

Ramsay MacNay's swimmer of the week is Lynn McLean. Lynn has excelled tremendously in our diving program at the pool. This is only her first week and she is already able to do tuck jumps and dives, shallow dives and somersaults. Lynn shows great determination and courage with every dive she attempts. Good work Lynn.

CHRISTINA BRADLEY

Christina Bradley is instructor Michael Monahan's swimmer of the week. She was in his class last session where she Red Level and was successful. She is a very good swimmer and has worked hard on her breathing front crawl. She is a delightful student to teach.

JESSE GREIG

Jesse Greig is instructor Brad Hardman's swimmer of the week. During session II she was also in his class and improved - but slowly. At the start of the third session she began to improve drastically. She earned her 'swordfish' and 'starfish' in two days. Some of this five-year-old's accomplishments are treading water for 30 seconds and swimming 4 metres on her front. Great work Jesse!

Ms. P. 19