

Lillian Thompson, Chairman of the Board of Bruce Peninsula Health Services, receives two cheques from Hans Heidolph, president of Caframo Ltd. in Warton, Friday, for the new hospital building fund. One cheque was a $1,000 donation from Caframo while the other was a $500 personal contribution from Heidolph himself. At least a dozen other organizations have presented cheques or pledged money for the new hospital which Thompson expects to be built in 1989. The Ministry of Health is paying $8,000,000 or two thirds of the cost of the new facility.
