

origin
and derivation of the names of towns, villages and settlements as served by the Institute branch. Tell how your community received its name.

All local current events should be recorded in your books, as these are the history of to-morrow.

Sometimes we complain about the conditions of to-day, nevertheless our own lives are very much easier than those of our Canadian forefathers. Our pioneer ancestors had the vision, the courage and the perseverance necessary to lay the foundations of this great country - Canada. Their tasks were performed in the midst of other wars, depressions and periods of expansions, but they did not fail. They persisted and won, so we must try to the best of our ability to follow their example and go forward. If you comp lo and preserve pioneer history and the present day current events, our descendants will be grateful to us, as we are grateful to our own ancestors. In spite of difficulties and wars, we should and can face the future with hope and courage, and also with confidence that freedom, justice and right will prevail in this great Canada of Ours.
