

Family tree

Everyone is interested in their ancestral roots, but a group of students from Ancaster's Fessenden public school were interested when the tour guide helped them study the Gage family tree during a recent field trip to Battlefield House.