girls and boys; they do charitable work. I wonder how many people out there realize what this group is all about."

Admitting that she herself didn't fully understand the workings of a Women's Institute, upon accepting the position at the museum, Susan joined the ranks of the Vinemount Women's Institute.

And what did she learn?

"There's a wealth of information at your fingertips, both as part of the Vinemount Women's Institute and the Erland Lee Museum Home. It's a study of the community and the development of the community."

On Dec. 5 and 6, the Women's Institute is presenting Christmas at the Lee, special events days featuring pioneer crafts and demonstrations.

The public is invited to attend from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., both days.

It's a great tribute to times past so why not drop in and welcome

Susan and Jim to the community.
