

Actions

Women's Institutes concern themselves with current issues. They speak out as a voice of rural Ontario women and then put their words into action.

- WI has urged Canadian governments to work with the U.S. government to control the problem of acid rain
- improved mental health services in Northern Ontario is a concern they have voiced
- WI initiated a submission to the federal government regarding improved pensions for homemakers
- teaching agriculture and family studies in Ontario schools is being encouraged by Women's Institutes
- WI has requested the federal government to allow the use of heroin to ease the pain of terminally ill patients
- WI has spoken out against pornography
- Women's Institutes support the inclusion of part-time workers in the same benefit packages available to full-time employees
- the legalization of cannabis is a concern the organization has spoken out against

Organization

The Women's Institute is an educational organization which is non-partisan, non-sectarian and non-racial.

For more information, contact:

Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario

An organization meeting the needs of today's women