

They got the harvest in at the Lee Home last week . . . Oct 1 & 2 - 1986

and everybody had a great time!

Harvest Days was held with great success at the Erland Lee Museum Home on Oct. 1 and 2.

School children and many other visitors viewed the making of corn husk dolls, the spinning of wool from angora rabbits, the technique of quilting and the art of china painting.

Some of the children tried bobbing for apples and playing blind man's bluff. Visitors enjoyed apple pie and candy apples on sale at the home.

Many crafts were for sale and students learned of the past visiting the museum.

CHINA PAINTING: Grace Campbell demonstrated China Painting to the visitors of Harvest Days at Erland Lee Museum Home. The delicate work produced decorative plates. —STAFFphoto

QUILTING BEE: Jean Matheson (left) and Dorothy Kitmer worked on a quilt at the Harvest Days celebration. The two ladies were part of a larger group quilting at the Erland Lee Museum Home. —STAFFphoto

CHINA PAINTING: The finished product. —STAFFphoto

Pictures

by

Claudia

Kuehl

CORN HUSK DOLLS: The finished product. —STAFFphoto

BLIND MAN'S BLUFF: Janelle of R.L. Hyslop School, blindfolded, tries to tag one of her classmates during a game of blind man's bluff at the Erland Lee Museum Home. Harvest Days were held at the home on Oct. 1 and 2. —STAFFphoto

CORN HUSK DOLLS: Helen Elliot showed several interested visitors at the Erland Lee Museum Home how she made corn husk dolls out of straw. The home was the location for the celebration of Harvest Days. —STAFFphoto