

advised us to have programmes printed for our years meetings. and everybody work hard to make the Institute a success as younger branches look to us as the mother of the women's Institute.

A vote of thanks, moved by Mrs McNeilly seconded by Miss Walker, was tendered Mrs Rife for her interesting address.

Misses Evelyn Smith and Mary Charlton sang a duet which was evidently enjoyed.

The meeting adjourned and lunch was served in the council chamber to the members of the Farmers and women's Institute.

Miss Rife also spoke at the evening session on the Education of our young people.
