SENATOR E. D. SMITH IS NOT GOING BACK

Explaining yesterday that he had not, as yet, formally resigned from the Senate, where he has held a seat since 1913, Senator E. D. Smith, of Winona, said that he had not altered his mind about going back and, if a formal resignation is required, it will be sent.

"When I missed two successive sessions," he said, "I thought it would follow automatically that I was out as that is the law. I did not send any resignation as I did not think it was necessary."

The veteran senator repeated his previous statement that he has no intention of going back to Ottawa as he feels that his health does not permit. "I am certain that if I had gone back during the last session, the nervous strain would have knocked me out completely," he remarked. Dec 27, 1945

YOUNG ARTIST ATTRACTS ATTENTION—Although he has never had a lesson in this line, Paul Duff, 17-year-old student of Burlington High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Duff, Beach boulevard, is doing exceptionally fine work in oil painting and his pictures are attracting considerable attention. He is seen in this photograph beside one of his pictures entitled a Hamilton Street Scene, a view that will be recognized as James street south. The young artist took up painting as a hobby along with music and photography. He is a 5th year student at high school and intends going through as a doctor. Sept. 18, 1945.
