Guest Speaker- Mrs. M. Pardy, who lives west of London. Mrs. Pardy said that Institutes could be proud of their past. The organization that puts up their feet to rest does not accomplish much. We have the chance to make this organization a great thing. The making of a good home training children, there is nothing more important.

Out of the small beginning started by Adelaide Hoodles, has come the many different organizations of the Institute that we have to-day. Objectives of the Institute is knowledge for the home. She said she didn't know of any other organization that would take the time to teach people, the different things that the W.I. does. It makes one get up on their feet and get used to talking to people so that each Branch can get new Members. Divorce and Abortion should be discussed in our meetings. We should also learn to make foreign food, as it will draw us closer to those coming in from other lands. We should send for a lot of A.C.W.W. Brochures. Someone will ask us what our W.I. does anyway and we can hand them one of these Brochures and it tells them all about it.
