

Edith Rushworth contributed this shot of the Corby Distillery staff in 1937.

Today's Time Capsule shows Corby Distilleries salesmen at a sales conference at Corbyville, April 28-29, 1949. Unfortunately, we do not know who contributed this photograph or the names of any of the pictured men. One thing we do know, though — judging by the number of topcoats worn, it must have been a cool spring. Corby Distilleries will close at the end of this month after more than 150 years in Quinte.
