

Barb Maxwell, an employee of Corby's Distillery, is seen here at one of the more popular displays at the Focus on Belleville exhibition at the Quinte Mall. The industrial trade show runs through to Saturday evening at the mall's concourse and includes 31 corporate booths and exhibits. Organizers say this year's show tops the 1987 business showcase by five exhibits and they tout the exhibition as a chance for city industries to "show off."

Artists display their labor

More than 50 of eastern Ontario's best artists displayed their work over the weekend at the annual Tweed Kiwanis Club Fine Art Festival on the grounds of Corby Distillery in Corbyville. Although rain Saturday dampened the turnout of spectators, Sunday brought them out in droves.

Work ranged from paintings to sculptures to photographs.
(Photo - Bill Whitelaw)