Adelaide Hunter Hoodless was born on a farm near
St. George in 1858, in Brant County.
     She founded the first Women's Institute at Stoney Creek, Ontario, on February 19, 1897.
     She died suddenly on February 25, 1910.