

1990 WOMEN'S INSTITUTE ARTS AND CRAFT FAIR

Our 7th Annual Arts and Craft Fair attracted a crowd of 4000 or more at the Community Centre in Picton. This year for the first time the Curling Rink was used - and all spaces filled. It was very hot in there even with the doors open. As usual volunteers went the day before to set up the tables for the vendors. The event was held on Thursday, August 2, 1990. Edith Cairns, Marlene Corfield, Daisy Wannamaker, one of Marlene's sons, a visitor from England, and Evelyn Price's son helped to set up the tables the day before the show. Some of our members also stayed to take down the tables after the show was over. As in the previous year, we shared the meal expenses and help with Mountain View W.I. and that proves to be a satisfactory way of helping both WI's as our members who can volunteer for various jobs are being depleted. All kinds of crafts are for sale, with vendors coming from Kingston, Barrie, Wingham, Niagara, Ottawa as well as our local people from Marmora, Belleville, Wellington and Picton. The outstanding success of these shows is evident as many of the vendors book space for the next year before they leave for home. Mary Lou Norton was Public Relations director and the show and other pertinent information was well advertised which she felt contributed to its success again in 1990. Our share of the proceeds for this event was $526.47

Bette Mastrangelo of Kingston had a display of hand-made Gifts of Love by Bette for sale.
