Tribute to teacher

An open house was held June 4 for Mrs. Margaret Richards (left) who is retiring from many years of teaching, from Sophiasburgh Central School. Glancing through some of the memorabilia from her teaching career are (left to right) Wayne Lindsay, principal and Tom Allison and Beverly Sprague, both former students. Friends and fellow teachers dropped by the Fireside Inn to pay tribute to Mrs. Richards.
