

- 9. She weaves and spins and sells some of her work.
- 10. She always has something for the poor or needy.
- 11. She plans to have warm clothing ready when winter comes for her household to wear.
- 12. She is wise and kindly, not idle.
- 13. She has children who call her blessed, her husband praises her and
- 14. The crowning glory for her happiness is She fears the Lord.

These rules are set forth in the Proverbs' last Chapter and we can not but think that they mean for us to-day the making of an ideal Farmers wife
 Health, virtue, thrift, good neighbor, kindly and ever aiding her farmer husband in the duties of his days.
 She may not spin or weave but she can have gardens, poultry, fruit to get the helping hand out for herself and others.
Three cheers for the Farmers wife.

MRS. S. J. CRAWFORD
 "At Home"
 Wednesday, August the 17th, 1910
 2:30 until 5 p.m.
 "MAPLE VIEW" Gilbert's Mills.

Mrs W. R. Munro

Mrs B. J. Gilbert.
 Your presence is requested at this Institute
 "At Home"
 As the guest of Mrs D. W. Allison.
 Member of G. M. W. I.

Mrs S. J. Crawford's. Luncheon
 It was a lovely afternoon and held on the lawn. Mrs Tolcott of Bloomfield was the speaker and her topic: Luncheon so well was "God made the country, man made the town". We were very active members and held meetings every month.
 Mrs Sarah E. Burns

The At Home at meeting recorded in minute book
 of At Home at Mrs. S. J. Crawford
 Wed. Aug. 17. 1910.

By Terna Richards