

Section 3 – Community Residents

- Page 1 – Hillier resident Len Smith serenades breakfast goers served by the Friends of the Wellington times Heritage Museum.
- Hillier hops farm owner Edgar Ramirez on becoming a Canadian Citizen.
- C.O.P.E. contribution to hospice PE
- Page 2 – Columnist called Huyck’s point home in summer.
- District soccer champions.
- Page 3 – Young Hillier hero paid ultimate price.
- Page 4 – Walking - The act of putting one foot in front of the other.
- Page 5- 6 – The Storied Path – The sands of North Beach.
- Page 7 – Jazz festival announces jam-packed 2103 lineup.
- Page 8 – Participants Jane Macdonald and Luc Beaubien on Hillier Hall float for Who-Ville Christmas parade.
- Conrad Beaubien to expose at the wellington SideStreet Gallery from November 8 to 30.
- A nourishing meal – Kids serve up tasty fundraiser for Storehouse Foodbank.
- Page 9 – Buried alive – Chance decision leads to remarkable rescue.
- Page 10 – Hillier resident Daiva Zalnierunas featured at TIFF.
- Love is patient - Hillier resident Cynthia Riordon serves sweets to Valentine celebrants.
- Page 11 – Playoff action – Novice BB Kings split weekend games.
- Johnson to receive honorary degree.
- Page 12-13 – Giving voice to the powerless.
- Page 14 – Fine art meets the outdoor lifestyle of Ontario.
- Page 15 – Saitarg’s Gravitas Quotient – features Canadian music legend and now a Hillier resident Bernie Finkelstein.
- Page 16 – Hillier residents - Forthcoming marriage.
- Mabel Wright a member of the Hillier Women’s Institute Branch celebrates her 90th.
- Ken and Carrolle Wright celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. Carrolle is a member of the Hillier Women’s Institute Branch.
- Page 17 - 20 years ago – Hillier resident Doug Crawford was named the Prince Edward County Chamber of Commerce citizen of the year.
- Off to medical school – Hillier resident Zara Zalnierunas to study rural medicine at McGill university.

Section 4 – Community Services

- Page 1 – Curriculum Completed.
- Above and beyond.
- One calendar, three cheques.
- Page 2 – One alarm fire.
- Page 3 – Helping autistic children; Horse Boy Method comes to Prince Edward County.
- Page 4 – On the edge.
- Page 5 – Library to host presentation on healing horses.
- Page 6 – Leap of faith – Councillors haltingly take next step toward a new fire hall in Consecon.
- Page 7 – Linda Downey – The everything bank.
- Page 8 – Canteen operations talk delayed – Lunn interested in seeing groups benefit from bar sales.
- Page 9 – Preparation key to disaster prevention.
- Page 10 – County is going green – organics collection to begin next week.
Approved – County radio station gets CRTC green light.
- Page 11 – Short road – How far does a million dollars go these days?
- Page 12 – County Rd. 8 project eats up majority of extra $1 million.
- Page 13 – Out of sight – New development plan consciously downplays wine sector in Prince Edward County.
- Page 14 - Hard decision – Mayor Peter Mertens won’t seek another term.
- Page 15 – Mayor pleased with financial strides made.
- County Rd. 1 tender given to Coco Paving.
- Page 16 - New program: County residents can receive services – Health Care in the home.
- Physicians will outline care plans for patients.
- Page 17 - Making it easy – County officials aim for 60 per cent participation in October vote.
- Page 18 - Small victory – OMB grants 12-year-old appeal.