

Mercury plunges to -30 C in city

Mon Jan 16
1984

Temperatures dropped to a bitter -30 Celsius last night, setting a new record for the coldest night of this winter.

Previously, the coldest night of the winter had been Jan. 11 when the overnight low dipped to -26.

The frigid temperatures also caused an unusual phenomenon this morning known as ice fog.

A spokesman for the London weather office said today ice fog occurs in very cold weather and differs from ordinary fog in that it is made up of ice crystals in the air, rather than water droplets.

Another difference is that ice fog deposits hoar frost on outdoor objects while ordinary fog doesn't.

service to return the students to their homes this afternoon.

The Mitchell buses were delayed because this morning's extremely cold temperature caused some operators problems in getting the vehicles started.

Mr. Ross said buses were also delayed because of the slippery conditions on some of the roads in the county.

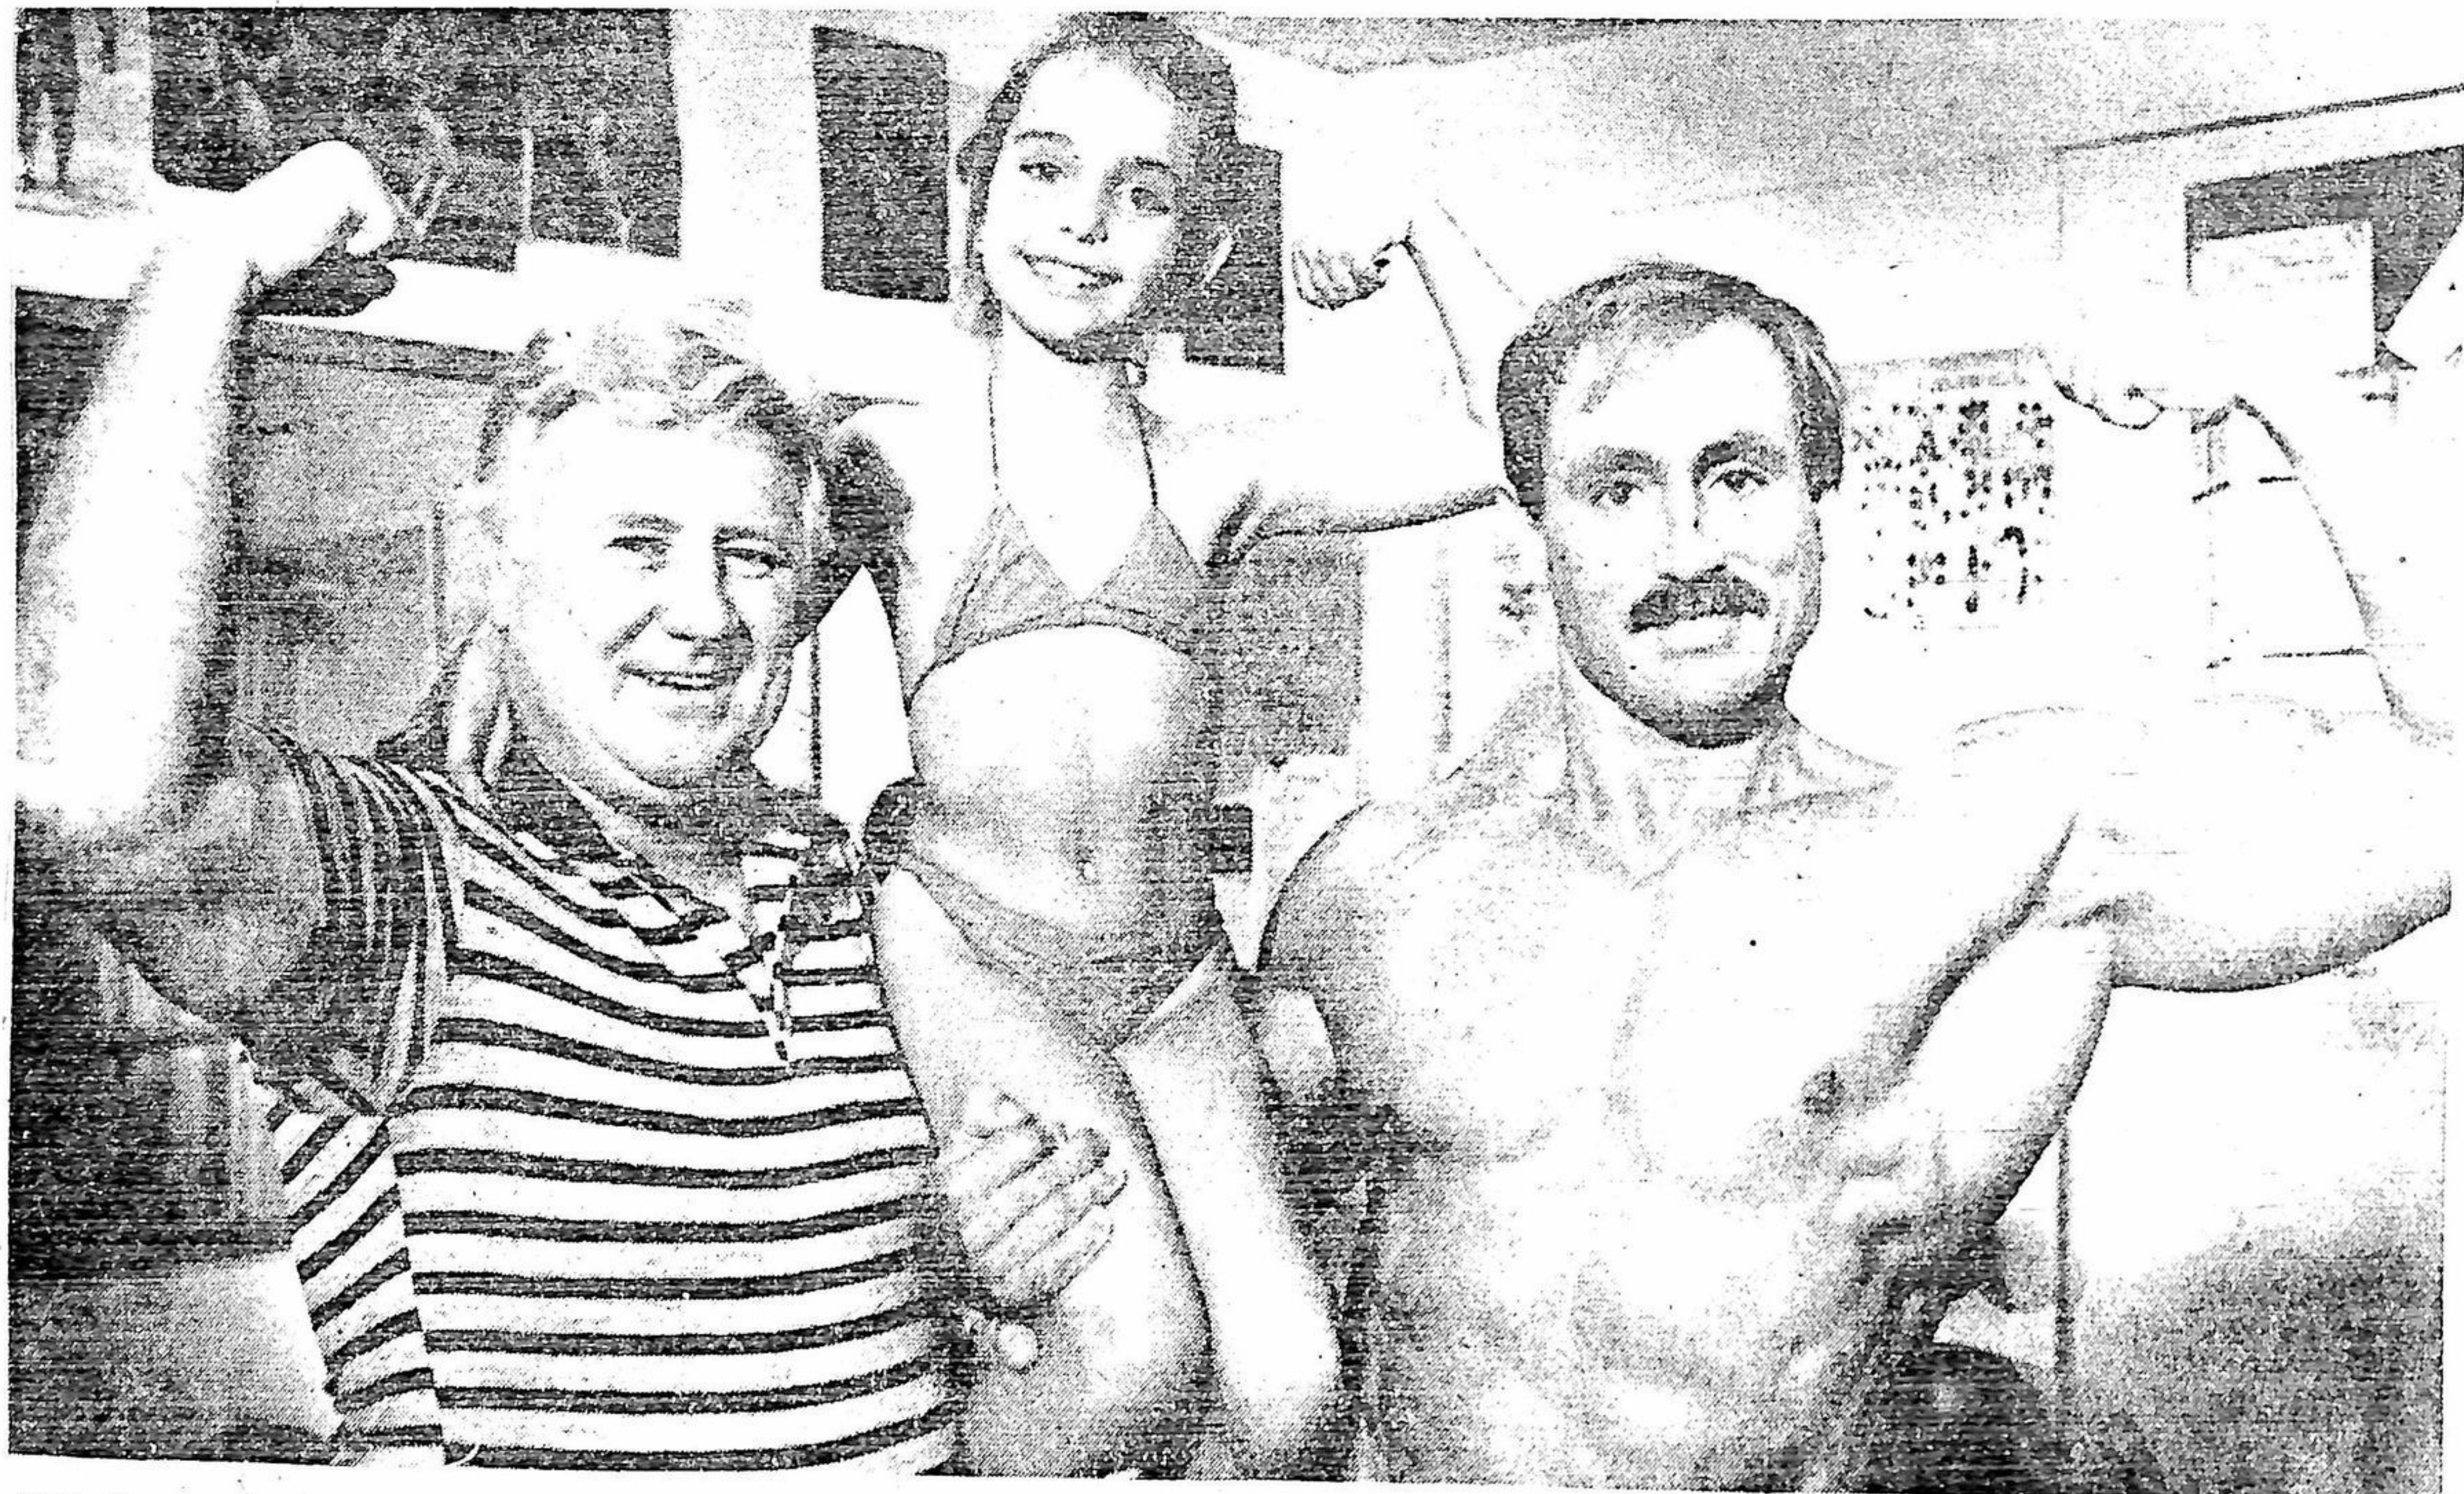

BEATING THE HEAT

Mac and Helen Armstrong took an air conditioned mode of transport to a wedding Saturday afternoon. The Beachville couple did the trip on a horse and buggy known as a vis-a-vis.

(Staff photo by Greg Rothwell)

STRATFORD / ONTARIO /
SATURDAY JUNE 30 / 1984 / 30 CENTS

Youngest bodybuilder

Billed as North America's youngest bodybuilder, seven-year-old Raphaela Neihausen, of Toronto, made a guest appearance on a taping of local television personality Danny Coughlan's Treehouse show this week. In photo above, Raphaela poses with Mr. Coughlan (left) and well-known local bodybuilder Jim Morris, who also appeared on the show. At right, Raphaela shows the form that has earned her accolades in several major bodybuilding competitions. The segment featuring her and Mr. Morris is scheduled to air in September.

Jim from Brooksdale area Photos by Scott Wishart