Embryo-area man has gone missing

EMBRO — An 18-year-old Embro-area man whose family has not heard from him since Nov. 10 is being treated as a missing person by police.

John Sherwood, a Stratford Central secondary student, has not been at school and has not contacted his family since that time, however police say a friend reported seeing him on a main street in Stratford as late as Nov. 25.

Const. Ray Dobbs of the Woodstock OPP detachment says Mr. Sherwood has not broken any laws, but that the family and police are concerned because of the "abrupt change in behavior."

Mr. Sherwood drives a grey, two-door 1986 Chevrolet Cavalier, licence plate 579 RCH. He is described as five foot, six inches tall, with dark brown hair and blue eyes. He weighs between 115 and 120 pounds.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of Mr. Sherwood is asked to contact the police.

Troop scouts out council chambers

ZORRA — The First Embro Scout Troop visited the Township of Zorra council Dec. 1, 1992.

Coun. Wayne Garner gave the scouts a tour of the township building. The scouts sat in for part of the council meeting.

"We thought it would be a good opportunity to see our local government in action," said Scoutmaster Wayne MacKinnon.

The visit helped the scouts earn a requirement for their citizenship badge. While earning the three levels of the citizen badges, the scouts learn about their country, and how the different levels and areas of government function.

Scouter Chris Cockle said he believed the visit would also benefit their troop by showing scouts how an official meeting runs.

Because Zorra council meetings usually start at 9:30 a.m., the 11 First Embro Scouts had to take a couple hours off school.
