

After having made our home in Cartwright for 22 years, we would like to thank friends & neighbours in the community for these good and memorable years - it has been a truly great place in which to live and raise our family. For making the recent auction sale such a success, we wish to thank the "Mr. & Mrs. Cochrane Auction Team," and also the ladies from Women's Institute for providing refreshments. Thank You All.

We wish to thank our many friends & relatives for gifts, cards & best wishes which made our 50th Anniversary Party so special. We would like to thank our family who organized it and a 'Thank You' to the Blackstock Women's Institute who so capably served the lunch.

Meaghan Gauthier didn't have to be talked into trying out a sample of May Shortridge's homemade butter, just one of many old-fashioned demonstrations at Cartwright Central Public School during Heritage Day last Friday. For story and more photos, see page 18.
