lyn Goulding, nee Colton, was a resident at the Golden Plough for the past 8.5 years. She received compassionate and loving care from the dedicated, professional staff.

Evelyn will be infinitely missed by her two daughters Joanne Gibson of Vancouver, B.C. and Ann Mortimer C.M. of Newmarket, Ontario, and Betty Pasche of Niagara Falls, Ontario, who was as close to Evelyn as her daughters. "Nana" enjoyed her role as grandmother of six and great grandmother of 10 children.

Evelyn's lifetime companion Tom Goulding, also formerly of Colborne, died in 1995.

Evelyn was born 1908 on her family's farm at Colborne. After 30 years' work in Toronto, she retired and returned to her much-loved cottage in the Colborne area. The door was always open to family and friends who came to visit.

borne United Church and was actively involved in the activities of the United church Women. She was also a lifetime member of the Inner Wheel Club of Colborne.

A graveside memorial service for family and friends was held at Salem Cemetery on Monday, August 14. Following the service, a reception was held at the lakeside home of her long-time friend Vi Warren and the late Arnold Warren of Colborne.

In memory of Ev, donations may be directed to Colborne United Church Women or the Golden Plough Lodge Pager Fund.

Garden Club summer flower show winners

COLBORNE CHRONICLE AUG 31/00

Colborne and District Horticultural Society held its annual summer flower show in Castleton Hall Saturday August 12, 2:30-4 p.m. The lovely bright hall is an ideal facility for showing off the season's best of the many varieties available in mid-August.

Our show fell on a very busy day in the area and many were cruising the Trash 'N Treasures sales held in Colborne. All who found time to come and enjoy the beautiful displays so carefully grown and shown were not disappointed. The specimens and arrangements were all high quality and it must have been a challenge to decide on the following winners of the prized Red Ribbons for Best in Show: for gladioli, Gayle Barrett; for decorative, Sandra Compton; and for annual, Agnes Lee. Also, special Judges' Choice - a Casablanca lily shown by Christine Westbrook and a dahlia grown by Jacques Filteau.

Mrs. Beryl Harris, Judge, was unable to attend this show and Hazel Wilson and Dora Attwell kindly took her place on short notice and judged the show for us.

Vi Morrison was the able convenor and she and her helpers did a terrific job of arranging all facets of the show. An array of goodies, tea, coffee and cold drinks were served at tables set up in the midst of the flower displays making an enjoyable area for rest and relaxation after a busy day.

We thank pour Castleton members for their hospitality and pleasant afternoon.

All who assisted in transporting items from Colborne to Castleton in preparation for the show also receive our thanks. Our faithful and active exhibitors did a wonderful job and were rewarded with prizes as follows:

Points are given for each prize won and Agnes Lee led all exhibitors gaining 100 points (including 20 First Place entries); Sandra Compton 77; Mary Jackson, 53; Gayle Barrett 52; Christine Westbrook 52; Jacques Filteau 41; Vi Morrison 20; Art Jackson 12; :Linda Hall Arnold 8; Ernie Morrison 7; Ann Harrison 6; and Jean Filteau 5.

Our fall show will be at Prospect Church Hall on Saturday September 16, 2:30-4 p.m. We urge all members and friends to mark their calendars now so they do not miss the showing of dahlias, mums, veggies, etc. It will be our last show of the season. Let's make it the best!
