ACCIDENT INVESTIGATION

Port Hope Police Constable Dan Linker photographs a sandal from a 15-year-old Castleton male who was struck by a vehicle and thrown 40 metres late Friday evening. Cobourg Police report the youth and three friends were crossing Division Street in Cobourg near the corner of Ewart Street when a southbound 1988 Toyota Camry struck him. Ambulance and fire department staff attended. The youth was immediately rushed to Northumberland Health Care Centre and transported by air ambulance to Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children. Division Street in both directions was shut down for several hours while members of Northumberland OPP and the Port Hope Police assisted the Cobourg Police Service in the accident investigation, which is continuing.

Monday afternoon, Mr. Thomas was reported out of intensive care.

Tweedsmuir history atlas

Recently the Springford Women's Institute, Springford, Ont., published a hardcover book called Tweedsmuir History, Village and Farms. Research has been done on the families who settled in this region from the late 1800's to present day.

Springford is in the former South Norwich Township, Oxford County, in the southwestern part of the province.

Possibly some of your readers might be interested in obtaining this book if their ancestors came from this small community.
