

APPLE BLOSSOM TYME FESTIVAL

CHRONICLE
JUNE 2/05

Kenny and the Angels maintained the high standard of stage performances in their Saturday night gig.

The Pilot hot air balloon rises slowly in the evening sky on the Keeler Centre grounds sponsored by W.W. D. McGlennon Insurance and Pilot Insurance.

Successful rodeo: OPP Auxiliary Officer Ken Hammill, OPP Constable Angela Ward, Cramahe Fire Captain Dwayne Hartley, Cramahe Community Policing volunteer Erin Sage, Cramahe Fire Captain John Jakab, Cramahe Community Policing chair Clinton Breau, and Braden Ward celebrate another successful bike rodeo at the Keeler Centre. The fire department donated $200 to the rodeo which is supported as well by local merchants.

Hold that line, Alex. It's not easy staying on the line at the bike rodeo, as seven-year-old Alex Johnson shows.

Wind conditions denied Pharen and Katelyn Wilson a trip in a hot air balloon last weekend, but they will get another opportunity within the next year. Katelyn, right, won the ride for two when her ticket was drawn on her birthday in a Castleton Sports Club draw sponsored by W.W. D. McGlennon Insurance and Pilot Insurance.

Carolynn Simpson is raising funds for her 60-km walk for breast cancer. Helping her at the beef-on-a-bun booth were Barry and Leanna Simpson and John Judson.
