

localnews

AWARDS

Winning parade entrants receive honours

FROM PAGE 8

Judges this year were Carol MacDonald, Linda Pettibone and Tim Post. The parade committee members of Colborne Legion, Castleton/Colborne

Optimist club and volunteers were Tracey Loveless, Nancy Heighton, Bob Rusk, Dale Rutherford, Jackie Buttle, Tom Nelson, Ira Wile, Mile Germaine and Mike Evans.

The parade sponsors were

Holcim Cement Inc., Dvern & Lehr Insurance and Financial Services, Colborne Home Hardware, Hoselton Sculptures, Township of Cramahe, Cramahe Firefighters Association, Rotary Club of Colborne, Northumberland Transit Initiative, HD Utility Supplies, Ladies Auxiliary Br. 187, Gord and Carol MacDonald, Colborne/Castleton Optimists, Kathy and Mike Voskamp and Legion Br. 187.

MANDY MARTIN photo

The Castleton/Colborne Brownies, Guides and Pathfinders won the best youth groups entr. The award was presented by parade committee member Bob Rush of the Colborne Cramahe Optimist club to Kristin Dingman-Price.

MANDY MARTIN photo

The single walkers winning entry in the annual Santa Claus Parade was won by a group led by Anne-Marie Awender. Parade member Tracey Loveless, left, of the Colborne Legion, presents the award to (from left) Johanna Buttle, Anne Marie Awender and Jocelyn Buttle.

MANDY MARTIN photo

Colborne Legion Br. 187 won the best service club entry in the parade. (From left) Parade committee members Bob Rusk of the Colborne Cramahe Optimist club and Nancy Heighton of the Colborne Legion present volunteer Alyssa Buttle with the award.

MANDY MARTIN photo

Brighton Speedway won the best commercial Colborne Santa Claus parade entry. Parade committee member Bob Rusk, left, of the Colborne Cramahe Optimist club makes the presentation to Ken Awender.