Jamboree draws hundreds to Colborne

The 12th annual Auction Barn Jamboree drew hundreds to the weekend of live music in Colborne during the Labour Day weekend.

ALL PHOTOS BY MANDY MARTIN/ FOR NORTHUMBERLAND TODAY

Auction Barn Jamboree co-hosts Gary Warner and Linda Grills.

An "instant village" of RV-ers established itself on the grounds of the Keeler Centre in Colborne for the annual Auction Barn Jamboree of old-time country music.

The Colborne Legion, Branch 187, held its annual Steak and Burger BBQ the Saturday night of the 2016 Labour Day weekend — and extended the invitation to all attendees of the 12th annual Auction Barn Jamboree. There was a great response.

Cheryl Adrain of Perth wowed the Saturday night crowd of hundreds at the "Ottawa Valley night" roster of performers at the 12th annual Auction Barn Jamboree at Colborne's Keeler Centre over the Labour Day weekend.

They packed the Colborne Keeler Centre for the roster of old-country live music performers over the 2016 Labour Day weekend.

It's all black and white: pure pleasure dancing to old-time country music at the 12th annual Auction Barn Jamboree in Colborne. Dave and Joan Pressley of St. Catharines have attended the last 11 annual jamborees in Colborne.

Home on the Colborne Keeler Centre range over the Labour Day long weekend for these 12th annual Auction Barn Jamboree-goers also meant catching up over Sunday lunch. From left to right are Gloria and Dave Shone of Lindsay, Margaret McQuaid of Newcastle, Lloyd and Joy Brittain of Dunsford.

Pat Westrope of Colborne welcomed 12th annual Auction Barn Jamboree attendees to her jewelry and clothing booth at the Keeler Centre in Colborne this past Labour Day weekend.