

This Tweedsmuir History is the property of the Parry Sound South District Women's Institute. It is to be kept at the home of the Curator as long as the district is in existence.

The Parry Sound South District Women's Institute was first formed in 1914. Work on the history was started in 1981. Since the early minute books have been lost, records before 1941 are incomplete. If anyone reading this history has information about District activities of the early years, which is not recorded here, the Curator would be pleased to receive it and add it to the History.
