Mrs. Reginald Boundey

A longtime resident of Port Perry, Mrs. Reginald Boundey passed away peacefully at the Community Memorial Hospital, Port Perry, on Saturday, October 20, 1984 in her 78th year after a short illness.

Frances Margaret Christine was born at Purple Hill on January 17, 1907, the only daughter of Job Graham and Maretta Byam. She received her education at Purple Hill School.

On October 2nd, 1940, Frances married Reginald E. Boundey. Together they made their home in Port Perry until his sudden death on December 27, 1955.

Frances was a faithful member of the Bethel Methodist Church and later the Port Perry United Church, both of which she attended very regularly. For over fifteen years, Frances exhibited at many fairs and exhibitions over a wide territory. Throughout her life, Frances was a very ardent and successful gardener. Her countless outstanding flowers both indoors and out, were a great pleasure to her.

Mrs. Boundey leaves to mourn the passing of a cherished aunt Joyce and Gerald Kelly, Harvey and Joan Graham, Cheryl, Mark and Rob Graham, Elizabeth, Eleanor, Elaine and Esther Kelly all of Blackstock. She was predeceased by her brother Courtney Graham.

The memorial service was conducted at the Chapel of McDermott-Panabaker, Port Perry by her minister Rev. Glenn Jackson. Interment was at the family plot in the Pine Grove Cemetery, Prince Albert.

Pallbearers of her choice, were Peter Atkin, Tom Feltis, Lloyd Short, Clarence Fair, Bernie Gotham and Cecil Gibson.

James Mackie

James Mackie passed away suddenly on Saturday afternoon July 14th, 1984 at 5 p.m. as a result of a heart attack while haying. On June 20th, the deceased observed his 77th birthday.

Mr. Mackie started his farming operation some 50 years ago in Lotus and augmented his farm income as an artisan both as a blacksmith and at wood-working at which he had a definite aptitude.

He married the late Mildred Stenson and together through hard work and perseverance purchased two farms and successfully farmed same until Jim's death. Mrs. Mackie predeceased her husband by approximately 11 years. They also raised two adopted sons, Larry and Joseph, who were left homeless at the death of their mother, Jim's sister, Georgina Fielding.

Jimmy, as he was known to his friends far and wide, was deeply respected by his peers for his honesty and integrity, his tireless energy and perseverance.

A thrifty Scot, he led a Spartan existence, despised laziness and ostentation in others, but admired those who were successful through their own ingenuity and personal endeavours.

Politically, Mr. Mackie was an ardent supporter of the Liberal regime. Despite a lack of much formal education, he was an avid reader and was knowledgeable and conversant in almost any subject.

He was a helpful neighbour and his assistance was always available when a friend needed a hand.

The funeral service was conducted on Tuesday, July 14th at the Wagg Funeral Home in Port Perry with Rev. Clarke of Port Perry providing a comforting message to the bereaved. Interment followed at the family plot at the Yelverton United Church Cemetery with refreshments served following the service at the Yelverton United Church basement by the UCW Ladies.

The Bearers were all neighbours - Messrs. David Foote, Al Quinn, Jimmy Gray, Jimmy Welsh, Floyd Stenson and Harvey Malcolm.

Left to mourn Mr. Mackie's passing are his two sons - Larry and Mary and their 3 sons of Blackstock; Joseph and Betty and their 2 sons and 1 daughter of Lotus and 1 brother, John Mackie of Lindsay as well as numerous nephews. He was predeceased by one sister, Georgina and a brother Gordon.
