A Family Tribute To Ella

A Mother such as ours
Is rare indeed to find
And now that she has earned her rest
Fond memories flood the mind
Her never-ending strength and courage

Displayed her whole life thru
Her sunny smile and quick hello
To everyone she knew

When we were young and times were hard
Our cupboard almost bare
Her magic hands could always find
A hearty meal somewhere

And as we grew, we always knew
Her heart was ever open
Though we might stray or go our own way
Family ties could not be broken

Her home was always open
And her table big enough
To feed a host of visitors
With such tasty home cooked stuff

Her patient, kind and thoughtful ways
True symbols of her soul
To instill such qualities in us
Was certainly her goal
We hope that we may someday reach
A level half as high
As Mothers' example was to us
In days that have gone by

And even in the last few months
When pain was so severe
Her chin went up, defiant yet
Though she knew death lingered near

A Wife and Mother sadly missed
(We can't believe it yet)
But we take comfort in the fact
Her Saviour she has met

And still playing out her motherly role
She's gone ahead, I bet
To prepare a special place for us
Beyond that Great Sunset
