

THE PIONEER.-- By Edward Everett Hale.

What was his name ? I do not know his name.
I only know he heard God's voice and came,
Brought all he loved across the sea.
He felled the ungracious oak.
Dragged from the soil
The thrice gnarled root and stubborn rock
With plenty piled the mountain side.
And then, at length, without memorial died.
No pealing trumpet thundered forth his fame,
He lived, he died, I do not know his name.

As far as possible the accounts of the historic records given in these pages are accurate. It has not been easy to get a true picture of the early pioneers as the most of the real pioneers are gone, and the records of early settlements are incomplete.
