

745/86

A spectator squares his shoulders against the cold and Claude Oattes steadies the log as Richard and Roddy Oattes compete in the log sawing contest which was part of the Queen's Line winter carnival last Saturday.

QL carnival provides lots of fun

The Queen's Line winter carnival on the weekend again proved to be a sure cure for the winter blahs, as members of the community got together for a day of fun.

The Queen's Line rink was the focus of the festivities, and skating, hockey and sleighrides and a variety of contests kept young and old busy throughout the day. The ladies of the community kept the energy level of the participants up by serving tasty home-cooked meals which were eaten by the warmth of the wood stove.

The log sawing contest was a highlight, and men's winners were Ray Bennett and Roy Bulmer. In the ladies' division, Sharon Jaremkow and Wilda Johnston took top honours.

Ron Eckford was tops in nail driving for the men, and Sharon Jaremkow was the lady that was handiest with the hammer. Kevin Hewitt won the boys' division in nail driving.

Ron Eckford won the puck shoot, and Greta Eckford and Brian Oattes won draws for plates donated by Creative Flooring.

Three teams competed for top spot in a tug-of-war. The team from the Fourth Line won over Forester's Falls and the Queen's Line.

In young men's hockey, the Renfrew Rink Rates won over the Queen's Line team. The Valley Flyers won the senior contest over Queen's Line.

The throne races were again a highlight of the Queen's Line carnival. In the 10 and under age group, Cristin Kargus, Krista Armstrong, and Christopher Armstrong took first place. Jody Sack, Brent Crozier, and Maureen Rose came second.

Horse-drawn sleighrides were provided during the day by Gordon McLaughlin.

January 14, 1937

Jan. 14, 1937

were four pairs of twins and one set of triplets.

Now, we wonder how many times a grandmother she might be. Perhaps a great - great - great - great grandmother.

.....

The annual meeting of Queen's Line Telephone Co. was held in Queen's Line school Saturday afternoon. Officers elected are: Pres., Hafford May; directors, R. Gould, Robt. Pettigrew and Reuban Oattes. Mrs. Jas Rankin, Sr. is Secretary-Treasurer. The Company is in good financial condition and collections were good though there are some arrears to come in. No extra expense had to be spent on the line for the year.

.....

Fifty Years Ago May 14, 1936

Mr. Howard McCready, who entered The Sun office, early in 1934, as a printing apprentice, and since then has assisted his father in that work has accepted a position in Coldwater, Ont. where he is now employed on the newspaper there. Howard is succeeded in The Sun office by his brother Arthur, thus continuing the association of father and son in the publishing business here.

.....

Work has begun on a new cheese factory which is to be erected on the Queen's Line, a short distance from Cobden Road. A meeting was held this fall to secure patrons enough to patronize one if it were built and many have signed up to support one. Work began on Monday on the foundation and a man from Ottawa has the contract for the building of it and a $10,000 cheese factory will be erected and ready for cheese making in the spring. Mr. Thos. Sauve is the owner and will have charge of it. He also owns a cheese factory at Starks Corners.

.....