

Bread of the north

Bannock, "the bread of the north", bakes on sticks over an open fire in a teepee on Moose Factory Island. The native woman who sells the tasty biscuit-like bread adds currants or raisins to the dough for extra flavour. Look for the teepee near the Anglican Church hall on the island.

Bannock tent

Inside a native woman makes bannock, a type of bread, for sale to tourists and residents of Moose Factory Island and surrounding area.
