

It is very important that people think you are important.

Miss Mc Kercher said we can't expect people to go to everything, but have something interesting for people to want to go to. It changes in things usually leads to progress, it is difficult to look ahead further than one can see.

Also a word on 75th anniversary of Macdonald Institute a few officers have been changed I tried to write them, but we should have short hand to do that.

We had a very nice address from Miss Eileen Boyko Home Economist
