

George Lathrop's farm way of Ben Brown land I do not know, first he had 50 acres his brother Isaac had 50 acres across the road with a log house which makes the 100 acre farm of to-day. there was a log house just in front of the house of to-day a twelve ft plank took you to the well, and the road was south of the house & came near straight to Castleton or center town as it was called then. He was married and had one boy Charlie and his wife died then he married Louise Williams they had 3 children, Emma Jane, John, & Dennis. Emma Jane married John Prater he lived in Colborne & drove the mail to Warburth for many years. John did not marry lived home. Dennis married Ella Colman.

The house was built by George Rowbeck & Pete Button. when the barn was built this Pete Button went across the ridge pole on his hands feet in the air. many the story could be told about the old farm. C. D.
