

Summerfest '93

Desperadoes -- Colborne Reeve Walter Rutherford and Cramahe Councillor Lee Dekeyser in Summerfest Jail.

Ha, Ha, Ha -- Splash! -- Doug Galt of Salem, former reeve of Cramahe, looked confident -- and dry -- when he ascended the dunk tank, but all it took was one sure aim and down he went into the drink. He who laughs last, laughs wet, we always say!
