

It's not exciting work and it's not fast work. It's boring, dull and deadly. And I rather enjoy it," says the stone fence builder. Wendell Sedgwick is barely visible as he lays stones at the far right end of the fence.