SHAW-COOPER

St. Mathew's Anglican Church Kingarf was the setting. August 22, 1970 for the wedding of Marion Isable Cooper and James Cameron Shaw.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Cooper, RR 5, Kincardine and the groom eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Shaw, Wallaceburg. The Church was decorated with various shades of gladiolus and dahlias. Rev. Tony Falkner performed the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Helen Stump of Walkerton played the organ during the ceremony and Mr. Ross Shaw, brother of the groom sang, "The Wedding Prayer", and "O Promise Me".

Mrs. Helen Stump played "First Trumpet Solo" by Henry Purcell, then "Mendelssohn Wedding March".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white crepe. The empire waistline and fitted bodice, was enhanced by a large bow, bell sleeves and stand-up collar. The A-line skirt was trimmed with scalloped swiss lace and small bows. She wore a shoulder length illusion veil, and carried red roses and white stephanotis on a white bible.

Miss Audrey Cooper of London, sister of the bride, was matron of honour. She wore street length blue crepe dress, with empire waistline, A-line skirt, short sleeves and round neckline. A matching blue velvet ribbon was tied in a bow at the waistline and two streamers fell to the hemline. She also wore a blue velvet bow in her hair. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white baby mums. Miss Gladys Cooper of RR 5 Kincardine, sister of the bride and Mrs. Gordon Cooper, Hanover, sister-in-law of the bride, were bridesmaids. They were gowned identical to the matron of honour.

Best man was Mr. Brian Shaw of Wallaceburg, youngest brother of the groom. The ushers were Master Ronald Cooper, RR 5, Kincardine, youngest brother of the bride and Mr. Lindsay Shaw, Wallaceburg, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother chose a short sleeve pink and white crimplene dress. She wore black and white accessories, corsage of pink carnations and white mums. The groom's mother wore a rose pleated dress with white coat and navy accessories, corsage of white carnations.

At five a delicious dinner was served in the church basement by Kingarf Women's Auxiliary. The waitresses were cousins of the bride. Mr. Lindsay Shaw acted as toastmaster. Guests attended from Petrolia, Wallaceburg, Hamilton, Orangeville, Peterborough, Grand Valley and the Walkerton and Kincardine districts.

Marion chose a purple and white dress with white accessories and corsage of yellow roses and white mums for travelling. The bride and groom went to Orillia and Ottawa. The happy couple are residing at Grand Valley, Ontario.

SHOWERS

Marion was guest of honour at miscellaneous showers given by Betty Keating, Hazel Young and Eleanor Brayford of Orangeville.

Mrs. Gordon Shaws home was the setting for another shower given by Jim's sister's Mrs. Nancy Broad and Mrs. Karen Turner at Wallaceburg.

The community held a shower in Kingarf Church basement to honour Marion on her forthcoming marriage. After a short enjoyable program, Marion was presented with many useful and beautiful gifts. She thanked all who had helped with this shower, and invited all present to see her trousseau at her parents home. A delicious lunch was served by the group that arranged the shower.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Shaw honoured the newlyweds at a reception held August 29 at the First Baptist Church, Wallaceburg.
