

Dedication of the Tweedsmuir History Book Cover

Annual Meeting April 9, 1981.

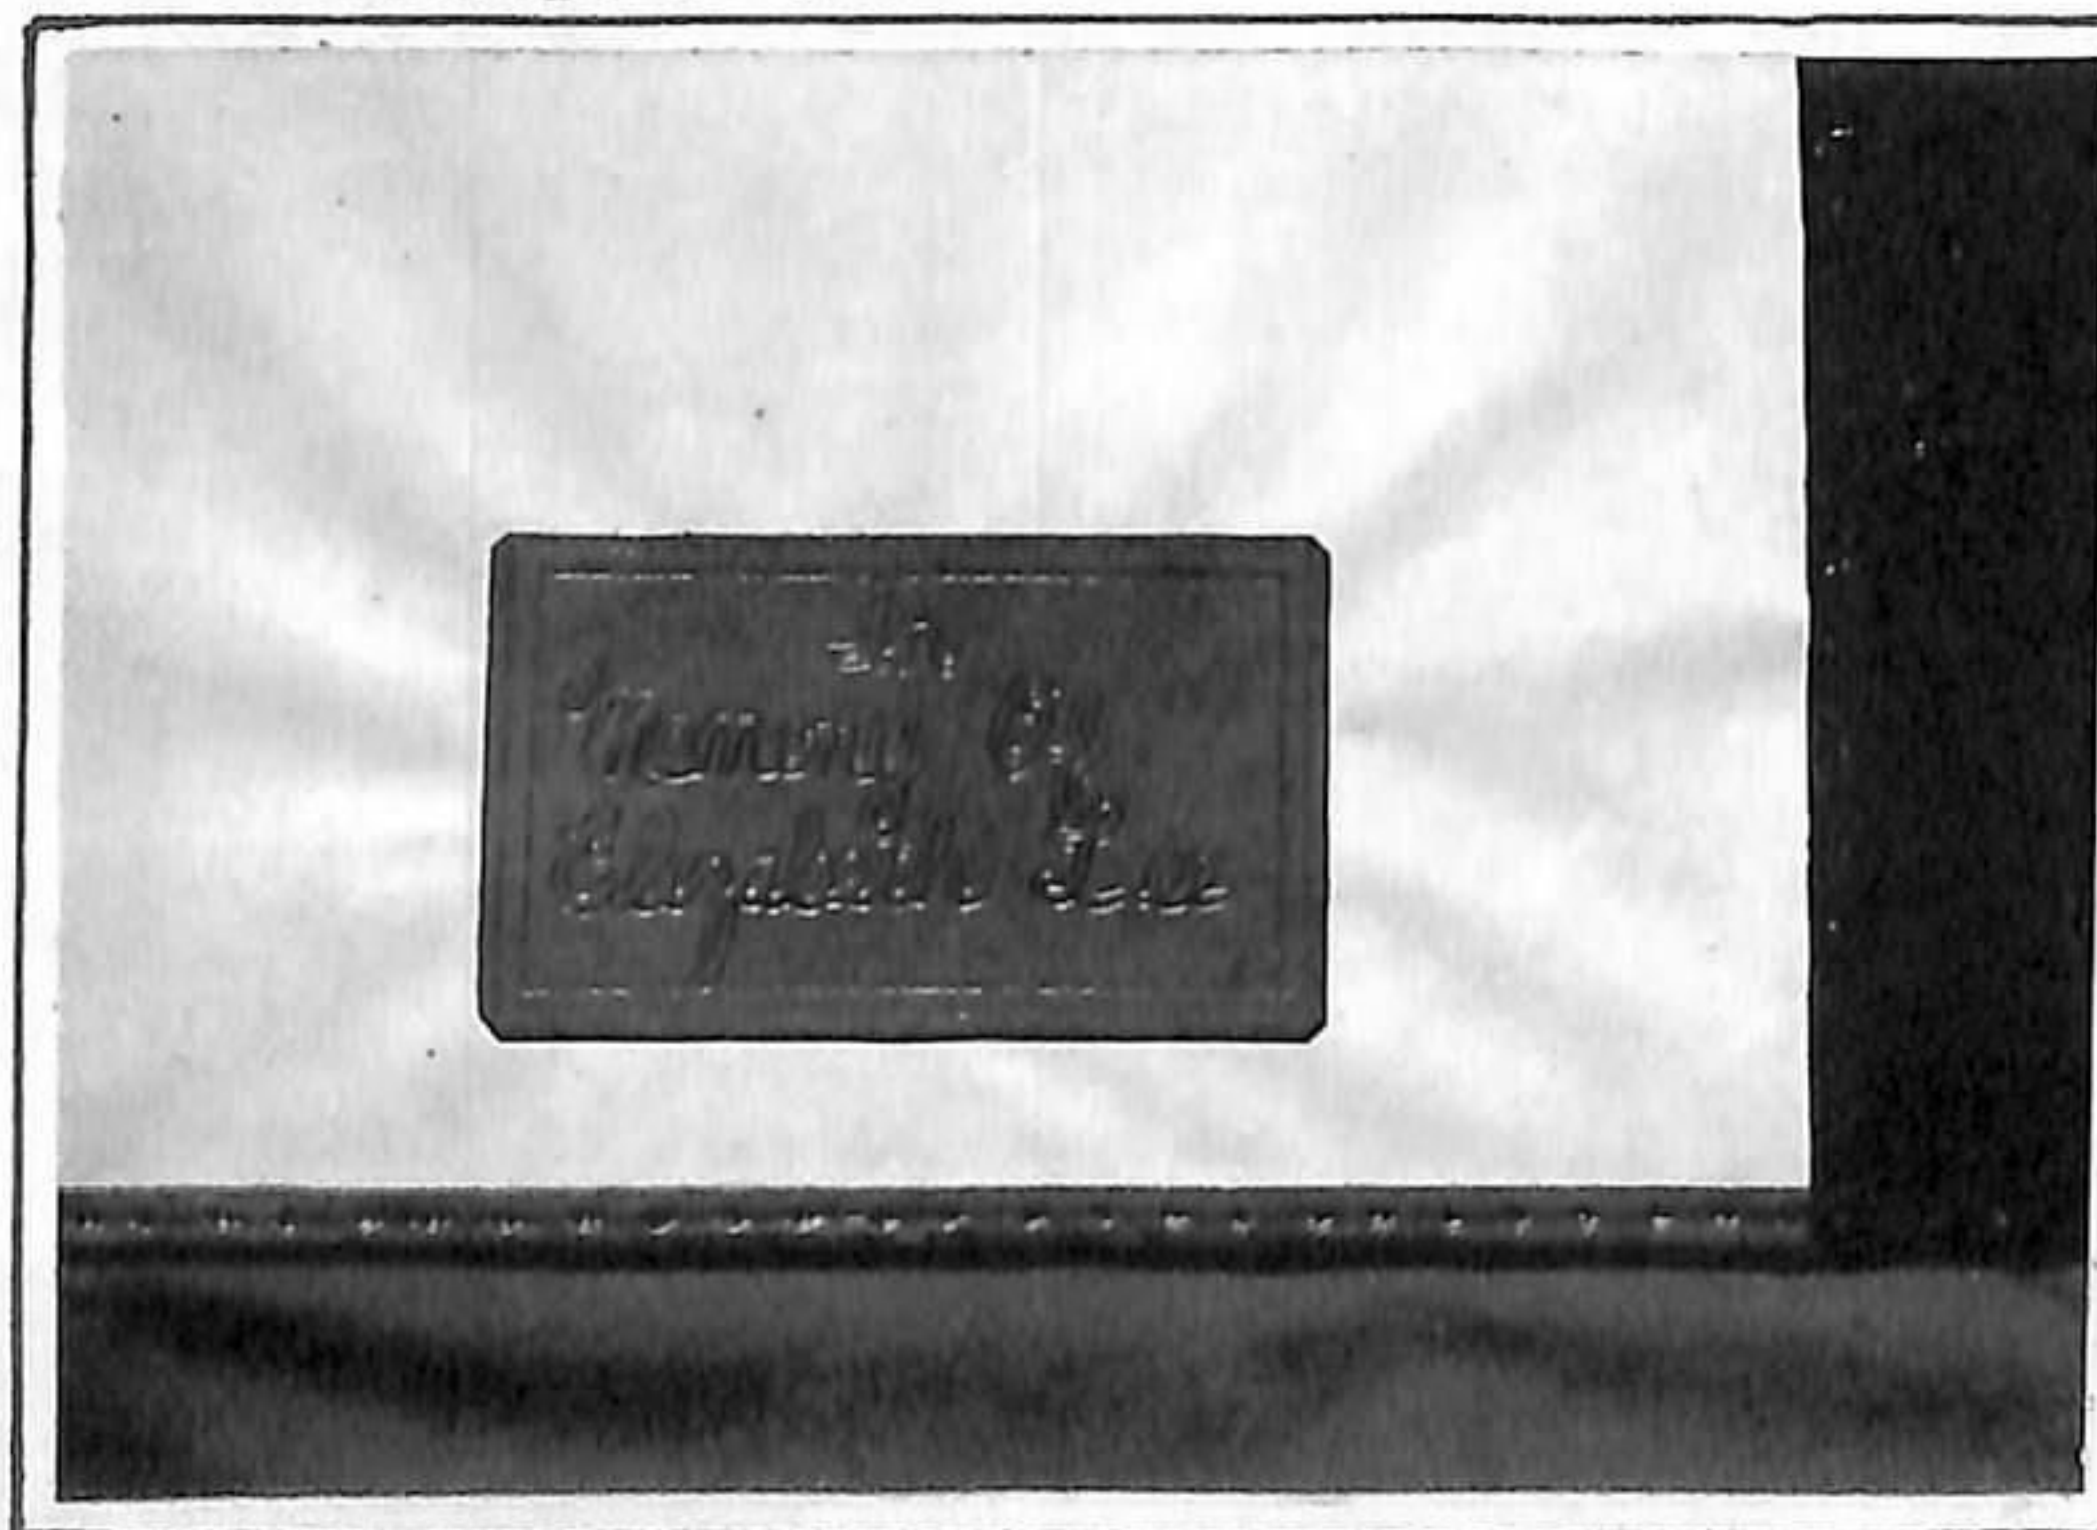

On August 11, 1979 the members of Atherton Institute were saddened to hear of the death of one of our true and faithful members in the person of Elizabeth Lee. She was our Public Relations Officer for years and held other convenerships and while able, always did a little more than her share in making Atherton Institute count. Like Paul of old "She fought a good fight and kept the faith."

After her death her family wished to thank Atherton for the friendship and caring shown to their Mother and gave us a donation in her memory. We felt it should be used in a manner that would honor her interest in the Institute. Evelyn Miller suggested a leather cover for the Tweedsmuir History Book. The curators searched and found Mr. Brad. Balch of Simcoe and he fashioned this lovely piece of work, which we wish to dedicate at this time. 1981.

I feel the following lines exemplify Elizabeth Lee's life as we remember her:

" Life is mostly froth and bubbles,
 Only two things stand like stone,
 Kindness in another's troubles,
 Courage in your own.
