

Local breeder achieves success with prize cairn terriers

Cairngorlynn's Ruffie's Rufus, bred and handled by Margaret McClory of Beamsville, is shown winning the Open Dog class at the Cairn Terrier Club of Canada National Specialty Show in 1986. However, Rufus wasn't satisfied with just one rosette, and went on to win the entire show, taking Best of Breed over 62 of Canada's finest cairns, including 20 champions! The judge was Willie McCulloch of West Kilbride, Scotland, past president of the Cairn Terrier Club of Great Britain. Rufus is now a Canadian Champion.

Lincoln fair is award winner

Lincoln County Fair president Andy Snedden and past-president Lillian Romagnoli show off the certificate recently presented to them after the fair was claimed number one in offering the best fair package. MARCH 1989

Old press is moved by museum

Moving slowly down the road, Howard Staff uses his tractor to transport the circa 1830 cider press to its new home at the Jordan Historical Museum's Fry House property. The cider press was used by one of Jordan's pioneer settlers, the Fry family.
