Where Do Women Belong?

The March meeting of Brown's United Church Women was held at Brown's United Church.

Mrs. Murray Taylor opened the meeting with a poem 'Tis Spring.

The minutes of the previous meeting and the Treasurer's Report were given by Mrs. John Conway and Mrs. David Arthur. Notes of appreciation were sent from those who had received gifts because of illness.

Events of interest in the future are: Westminster Weekend May 29 - 31, Alma College Weekend in August.

Mrs. Taylor gave a report of the Presbyterian meeting in London.

Mrs. Murray Kingdon, convener of Stewardship and Finance, presided for the program. She introduced the Study Book, Partners In the Gospel.

Study of this book should increase awareness of many facets of Christian life especially working with people, not just for them.

The hymn Lord Jesus Friend of Women by Betty

Phillips Fisher was sung. The scripture lesson, read by Mrs. Robert Arthur, was taken from Mark, Chapter 5.

A panel of women: Mrs. Murray Taylor, Mrs. Robert Arthur, Mrs. Murray Kingdon and Mrs. Hubert Uren; discussed the question - "Women - where do they belong?" These included the teenager, the young married woman, the middle-aged woman, the widow, the spinster and the elderly senior citizen.

Mrs. Murray Taylor read a poem on Stewardship entitled God's Little Pig.

Mrs. Taylor introduced Mr. and Mrs. George Towle who, with slides and script, recounted their trip to Oberammergau - scene of the Passion Play in Bavaria.

The story of how it came to be presented dates back to 1632 when the people were being devastated by the forces of the King of Sweden. Their lands were laid waste and the bubonic plague was rampant, causing whole families to be wiped out. Some of the people vowed to perform "The Passion Play" every 10 years in Oberammergau. It is said after this vow was taken there were no more deaths.

Five thousand people see this play at each performance and it is presented from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. with a break for lunch and continued from 2:00 - 5:30 p.m. Because of its inspiring content and the artistry with which it is presented, no one is conscious of sitting a long time or being tired.

The text is in German but an English text is available, and the theme is a well known one.

The story is described from Jesus entry into Jerusalem right through the trial, crucifixion, and the Resurrection.

Mr. and Mrs. Towle gave a fine presentation of their trip.

Mrs. Hubert Uren thanked Mr. and Mrs. Towle and presented them with a small gift in appreciation. Mrs. Clarence Tate announced the next meeting on April 1.

The roll call will be a verse from an Easter hymn. It is the Easter Thank Offering Meeting.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Tate's Group - World Outreach.

On February 26, the grade one class from Wildwood School, accompanied by Miss Won and Mrs. Dyer, visited the Kintore Library. The children enjoyed a story Nobody Stole the Pie and cookies supplied by librarian, Rita Pearson. The class also went to the post office where Postmistress Joyce McPherson explained how the post office operated.

Students enjoy bake sale

The Town Crier, March 25, 1981

BY SANDRA SQUIRE

KINTORE: The A-J Baker - Wildwood parents committee wish to thank everyone who helped make their bake sale on Friday such a success. It was a great way to end the school week and make way for the March break. School children now get a chance to catch up on sleep, work and projects that the teachers have assigned. Take some time to check out a sugar bush and watch the sap drip into the buckets. The high school students have just finished their exams last week. We wish everyone well with their results.

Students at A. J. Baker school had a difficult time deciding what delectable baked goods they wanted, at a bake sale last Friday at lunch. The sale was organized by parents from both A.J. Baker and Wildwood schools. The money will go towards school projects. A snowman cake was raffled off also.

Brown's W. I. held a Euchre Party, last Thursday night. Prize winners were high Albert Chowen and Jean Robinson, low David Arthur and Helen Land, and lone hands Frank Levy and Ina Wells.

The last euchre for the year, will be held Apr. 9.

People are asked to bring sandwiches or relishes and the euchre committee will supply dessert.

The Men's Club enjoyed a "Father and Son" bowling evening in St. Marys, last Saturday night.

Cackling Chicks

April 7/81
Brown's 4-H Cackling Chicks held their third meeting Feb. 23.

It started at 7:30 with 10 members attending. The meeting was opened by president Chris Wakem.

The pledge was said and the minutes of the previous meeting were read with all errors and omissions made.

The meeting continued with the roll call and the members discussed the characteristics of a good quality egg and learned how they can tell a person's fortune.

The reasons why a stale egg will float and what happens to egg whites with age or lack of refrigeration were explained.

The parts of the egg were labelled. The group learned how eggs are graded and why.

The recipe was the Eggonomical Quiche.
