Brown's booms

Brown's Corners extends get well wishes to Muriel Darling, a patient in St. Marys Memorial Hospital, and Madge Elgie, who recently was a hospital patient.

On Sept. 30, 16 girls met at Brown's School, to begin their 4H project on action wear. Joan Vanderpol was elected president, and Jenny Torbet - vice-president. The press reporter and secretary will be a rotating position.

Leaders are Linda Torbet and Joyce Tate, and they outlined the unit and discussed various knit materials and trims. A sewing box must be assembled for the next meeting, and club name suggestions are to be brought in by each member.

Possible garments and patterns to be made were displayed.

Kristina Tate was the press reporter for this meeting.

John Conway installed the old bell from Brown's School in the church belfry recently. A number of people attending church and Sunday school on Sunday took turns pulling the rope.
