

Brown's Church

Celebrates 130th

Four ladies from the Wellburn pastoral charge attended the ordination services for the Rev. Jean Baker at Manitou Conference on May 14. Attending were Joyce Tate, Roberta Atwell, Betty Barons and Reta Hughes.

Rev. Baker has accepted a call to remain as minister of the Wellburn charge.

The church was filled to capacity as the 130th anniversary service of the Sunday school was held on Sunday. The Sunday school choir sang I've Got Something to Sing About, and 37 members of the senior citizens choir of St. Marys told the story of Jonah, called The Runaway.

Matthew and Danny Miller have a new sister, Erin. The community extends congratulations to parents Dave and Carol Miller.

Congratulations also go out to Mike and Judy Harris on the arrival of their daughter recently at St. Marys Memorial Hospital.

4-H members present skit at Brown's W.I. meeting

Dorothy Taylor, past president of Brown's Women's Institute, presided for the May 20 institute meeting held at Brown's School. Mrs. Taylor read a poem entitled The Farmer.

The agriculture and Canadian industries group, convened by Joyce Tate, was in charge of the program.

The roll call, a favourite dairy product recipe, was answered by 38 members and guests.

Mrs. Tate welcomed the 4H members and leaders and read a poem - Ten Little Members. Annie Uren gave a commentary titled What Is a 4H Leader. Evelyn Arthur outlined the 4H project Milk Makes It, which she and Christine Karsten recently led.

Jody McKay explained the leaders' assistant project which she completed and commented on her display of the club tour to the Leslie Cheese House. The 4H members presented a skit - The Bone Builders - which they had prepared for achievement day.

Mrs. Tate called on Beth Pearson, dairy princess co-ordinator for Oxford County. Mrs. Pearson introduced guest speaker Shelley Martin, the 1985-86 dairy princess for Oxford County. Miss Martin explained the process by which she was selected and outlined her duties.

She demonstrated several ways to arrange an attractive cheese tray. Win McMurray thanked Miss Martin, presented her with a gift and expressed best wishes to her when she competes this summer for the Ontario Dairy Princess title at the C.N.E.

Jody McKay, who is helping Linda Torbet lead the Seed to Shelf 4H garden club, gave a brief outline of the project, which is currently being held at Brown's. A lunch of ice-cream pizza was served by the 4H members.

Susan Towle thanked the 4H leaders for their time and leadership and presented each with a gift.

During the business portion of the meeting Janet Uren, secretary, read the minutes of the April meeting and the 1986-87 recommendations. Treasurer Liz Harrison gave the financial report. A summary of the spring board meeting was presented by Dorothy Taylor.

Joyce West made the courtesy remarks and invited everyone to attend the June 17 meeting at 8 p.m., when Constable Steve Reeve will speak.
