

Brown's UCW plans picnic

Brown's U.C.W. met at Brown's school June 3 with 17 members attending. The president, Mrs. George Towle, opened the meeting with a hymn followed by prayer. Psalm 145 was read.

Mrs. John Hawkesworth read the minutes and correspondence.

A committee was formed to plan for a U.C.W. picnic Aug. 5.

Mrs. Towle read a poem, For Quiet Miracles.

Christian development convener Mrs. Hubert Uren opened the worship service with sing song. Mrs. Bob Arthur, Mrs. George Heron, Doreen Distler and Mrs. Towle took part in the worship service. The scripture reading was Matthew 25.

Mrs. John Conway sang He Touched Me.

Mrs. Towle introduced the speaker, Mrs. Roy Fader. Her topic was Life is a Journey. Two tapes were played, Rag Tag Army the Way of the Wolf and When God Mixes With Man.

Mrs. Bob Arthur thanked the speaker with a gift.

Joyce West, convener of World Outreach, made the courtesy remarks. Lunch was served by the World Outreach group.

Brown's W.I. June meeting

Nancy West, first vice president of Browns Women's Institute, presided for the June meeting held at Browns School. After welcoming everyone, Mrs. West read a poem titled Dreaming. A thank you note was received from Kristina Tate who was awarded a dictionary from Browns W.I. for highest academic achievement in Grade 8.

A committee, consisting of Carol Miller, Dorothy Taylor and Evelyn Arthur, was appointed to arrange a bus trip to the Huron Country Playhouse on Wednesday, Aug. 27 to see the matinee performance of Annie.

A decorative concrete edge has been purchased to border the flower beds at Browns School. Carol Miller displayed a sample and will help Marion Harris install these.

Evelyn Arthur displayed the W.I. crest which has been purchased for the new sign which is to mark Browns School.

Willy Vanstrien reported on the recent meeting she attended in Woodstock to learn more about the Ross Butler project. Following the meeting she accompanied the group which toured his studio, south of Woodstock.

The Junior Farmer bottle drive will be held on Saturday, July 19. Clear and coloured bottles should be sorted and left at Browns School before 9:30 a.m. that day.

Joyce West convened the citizenship group program and gave a reading titled Each Day, a new account. The roll call was answered by naming a quality of a good citizen. The motto of How to show concern without being nosey was read by Nancy West who described what a little town is.

Joyce West introduced Constable Steve Reid of the Woodstock O.P.P. who addressed the group about Block Parents and Neighbourhood Watch. Constable Reid was thanked by Carol Miller.

Nancy West gave courtesy remarks and invited everyone to the next meeting which will be held on Sept. 16 at 8 p.m. She wished everyone a safe and happy summer and closed the meeting with a poem Grandfather's Garden.

Everyone enjoyed strawberry shortcake served by the citizenship group.
